

Disclaimer

The Oklahoma State Treasurer's Office (OST) provides these pages as a service. Although OST staff members make every effort to ensure that the information on the site is current and accurate, it is possible that mistakes may show up from time to time. Typographical and other errors may exist and site pages may contain inaccuracies. OST staff members try to update information provided on this site as often as possible. With this in mind, each page lists a revision date as one way to make sure all information is current. However, sometimes minor changes are made to the source information since the revision date shown.

No reference or link from these pages to any commercial site or product is an endorsement or recommendation by OST for its use. Links to other sites are provided only as a convenience for the user and do not imply any endorsement of the material on those sites or any association with their operators. OST does not control such sites or products and is not responsible for their contents. Specifically, the condition of software downloaded from another site, is not the responsibility of OST. Any person, who chooses to download software from another site, does so at his or her own risk.
